CLOSING COSTS FOR SINGLE FAMILY HOUSES

For many people the purchase or sale of a house will be one of the most significant financial transactions of their lives. In making a decision to purchase or sell, you should equip yourself with knowledge of the costs associated with the transaction. In order to help determine the asking price for a sale or the purchase price which a buyer may be able to afford, these expenses should be considered in advance. Listed below is general information regarding these transaction costs. The specific numbers may vary depending on the price of the property being conveyed or the building in which a sale or purchase is transacted. However, the information here should only be used as a guide, and for a more exact calculation of the costs, please contact our office and speak with an attorney. This guide is the property of Matthew D. Schwarz, of Geist Schwarz & Jellinek, PLLC and may not be reproduced without permission.

Every transaction is different and the following should serve only as a guide.
